HISTORY "BUNK," SAYS FORD; MUSIC OF NO INTEREST

Professional Soldiers Murderers, Manufacturer Testifies—Favors Another War if League Brings No Peace.

"FLAG OF HUMANITY" PRODUCED IN COURT

Witness Says He Never Saw It Before—Is Strong for Defensive Preparedness Now.

By the Associated Press. MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 15.—Henry Ford made many frank admissions in the course of his testimony today in his $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune. Examination was by Attorney Elliot G. Stevenson, representing the Tribune.

Ford admitted ignorance of history and said that more than ever he considered it "bunk," growing out of tradition; nor had he any personal use for music or other forms of art. He testified that the professional soldiers are murderers, nor would he exempt Gen. Pershing or Gen. Grant from this category. He said that his present view is for the fullest preparedness unless there is a league of nations, and that if the war just concluded in Europe does not result in such a league, he favors another great war without delay in order to clean up the situation so thoroughly that universal peace would be had.

Agent Wrote Literature. It developed that Theodore Delavigne, a publicity agent for Ford, wrote virtually all of Ford's publicity literature and that much of it was circulated broadcast without Ford having read it.

"I accept full responsibility for it, however," Ford testified repeatedly. The mysterious "flag of humanity," which counsel for the defendant have been demanding ever since the case began, appeared.

"It is the first time I ever saw it," remarked Ford.

"Do you like it better than the stars and stripes?" asked Stevenson.

"It's a different kind of flag," answered the witness.

Earth in White on Blue Field. The flag was about 1x14 feet, with the earth in white on a blue field. Stevenson was attempting to show it to the jury when Ford took hold of one end, and said: "I'll help you."

The emblem, designed to typify world brotherhood, is said to have grown out of a remark by Ford three or four years ago, when he said that all national flags should be succeeded by a flag of humanity under which all men of all nations might stand.

Up to today counsel for Ford denied the existence of such a flag, but said a search for it was being prosecuted. Last week Attorney Stevenson said his information was that the flag had been brought to Mount Clemens, and had disappeared.

"Where was it found?" asked Stevenson.

"I don't know," said Ford. Attorney Stevenson introduced a pamphlet containing pacifist arguments, which, witness admitted, was widely distributed at his expense in 1914.

Stevenson quoted Ford as saying "preparedness is the root of war."

"That meant over-preparedness," said Ford.

"What do you mean when you say that war is murder?" "War of aggression."

"And those who urge preparedness advocate murder?" "Over-preparedness; yes." The witness said that same preparedness for defense was legitimate. He had no quarrel with it.

The lawyer quoted from the peace pamphlet wherein Ford advocated disarmament, and asked if in 1915 Ford was opposing any preparedness whatsoever.

"Yes," admitted the witness. "Let us disarm and the world will follow," Mr. Stevenson read from the booklet. "That was a good plan," said the manufacturer.

"Strong for Preparedness Now." "You state in this book that there was a ring trying to drive us into war," continued Stevenson. "Can you give us one member of that ring?"

"No."

"Could you then?" "I don't know that I could."

"President Wilson was one of those who urged the preparedness which you call murder?" "Over-preparedness, I am strong for preparedness now."

"You were not in 1915." "I thought our preparedness at that time was adequate."

"Do you think now that war is murder?" "Not for the oppressed."

The witness said that he considered professional soldiers—those

NORRIS ASSAILS ALLEGED SECRET SHANTUNG PACT

Says if U. S. Senate Ratifies Treaty as It Stands It Will Write "Blackest Page in Our History."

SHOWS PURPORTED DIPLOMATIC NOTES

Nebraska Senator Declares People Would Vote Unanimously for Change in Agreement.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, in the Senate today discussed the charge that Japan secretly obtained pledges from Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia early in 1917 that in the peace settlement Shantung peninsula should, for certain considerations be turned over to the Tokio Government. He produced what he declared to be copies of diplomatic correspondence embodying the promises of Great Britain and France. President Wilson, in conversation with Senators yesterday, said consideration had to be given to the treaty between the allies and Japan, made before the United States entered the war, by which the material German interests in Shantung were pledged to Japan.

These pledges, the Nebraska Senator declared, fully explained the pressure which resulted in Shantung transfer to Japan under the Versailles treaty, whose ratification by the Senate, he asserted, would write "the blackest page in the nation's history."

Great Britain's influence in the matter, he charged, was secured by Japan's support of British claims to Pacific islands, south of the equator, while France's aid was purchased by a promise of the Tokio Government to help draw China into the war so that German ships in Chinese harbors would be available for carrying troops and provisions to France.

Reads Official Notes. "On the 27th day of March, 1916," said Senator Norris, "the Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs at Tokio, approached the British Ambassador located at that place, with a view of bringing about an agreement with the British Government. The British Minister cabled to his Government at London, and, after receiving instructions from his Government, wrote the Japanese Government as follows:

"British embassy, Tokio, Feb. 16, 1917:

"My dear excellency: With reference to the subject of our conversation of the 27th ultimo * * *

"his Britannic majesty's Government accede with pleasure to request of the Japanese Government for an assurance that they will support Japan's claims in regard to the disposal of Germany's rights in Shantung and possessions in the islands north of the equator on the occasion of the peace conference; it being understood that the Japanese Government will in the eventual peace settlement treat in the same spirit Great Britain's claims to the German islands south of the equator."

"I avail myself of this opportunity, M. Le Ministre, to renew to you the assurance of my personal sympathy."

NEW SAFETY ZONE BEING TRIED OUT FOR CAR PATRONS

"L" Shaped Lines Mark Island in Street Set Aside for Use of Passengers.

An experiment in safety zones for passengers boarding and alighting from street cars is being tried at Sixth street and Washington avenue, and at Seventh and Washington. It is indicated by a white line in the shape of an "L," of which the longer side is 48 feet, and the shorter, 32 feet.

The "L" lies with the tip of the shorter side against the car tracks, and the longer side parallel to the tracks, the upper end reaching to a point even with the street corner. This indicates a space six feet in width, where passengers may stand while waiting, and in which they are to alight. A passage 12 feet wide is left between the longer side of the "L" and the curb, through which vehicles may pass.

Sign posts, similar to the present safety zone posts, are placed at the corner of the "L," bearing the inscription: "Vehicles must drive between this post and the curb." Street Commissioner Talbot said that if the experiment is successful, platforms will be placed on the spaces now enclosed by the "L's," as is the custom in some cities.

The law which prohibits vehicles from passing a street car that is stopping or taking on passengers will continue to be enforced at these safety zones.

TUMULT ASSURES J. E. SMITH WILSON WILL VISIT ST. LOUIS

President to Come Here on Tour, but Date Is Not Determined.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. J. E. Smith, of St. Louis, renewed assurance that the President will visit St. Louis on his forthcoming tour of the country, was given this morning by Secretary Tumulty. Smith also discussed with Secretary Tumulty the details of arrangements to be made for safeguarding the President. When the President will leave Washington is still unsettled.

Smith will depart tonight for Bedford Springs, Pa., where he will pass the summer with Mrs. Smith making frequent trips to Washington to keep in touch with pending waterway legislation.

25 PASSENGERS HURT WHEN LIGHTNING STRIKES STREET CAR

Women and Children Trampled in Panic in Pittsburgh Following Shock.

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, July 15.—Twenty-five persons were injured, several seriously fatally, when lightning struck a crowded Hamilton street car at Fifth and Wood streets in the center of the downtown district during a severe electric storm today.

J. T. Hoffman, 50 years old, motorman, was severely burned when the lightning which struck the trolley wire came down into the car and exploded the controller. A number of women and children were trampled in a panic which followed.

12-DAY DEBAUCH GIVEN AS CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH

Parents Say She Refused to Stop Drinking When Saloons Closed, Until Unconscious.

A post mortem examination today disclosed that the death last Sunday of Viola Fluke, 27 years old, of 2412 North Fifteenth street, was due to illness resulting from constant drinking from the time she was 12 years old, and became effective, July 1, until last Saturday.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fluke, told the coroner she refused to stop drinking, or to accept the services of a physician until she became unconscious Saturday. They did not know where she obtained the liquor.

AIR FREIGHT LINE ANNOUNCED

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 15.—A Zeppelin freight and passenger transatlantic service to start "about October 15" between New York and Hamburg, with Boston, Chicago, Berlin and Düsseldorf as ports of call, was announced in advertisements in German language newspapers and one American trade paper published here.

Hans Khars, an importer, who inserted the advertisements, said that he had been contacted by an American banker to act as agent for an overseas dirigible freight and passenger service to be financed by American, British and German capital.

NEIGHBORS WATCH THREE MEN IN AUTO IN 7 A. M. HOLDUP

Commission Merchant on His Way to Office Robbed of $70 Less Than a Block From His Home.

SUPPOSED POLICEMEN KIDNAP A MAN

Pair Searches Home at Night for Stolen Goods and Order Householder to Go With Them.

George Wurth Jr., of 3125 Vine Grove avenue, a commission merchant at 710 North Third street, reported to the police that he was waylaid and robbed of $70 less than a block from his home at 7 a. m. today.

Wurth said he was on his way to his office, and was near Vine Grove and Ashland avenues when an automobile with three men drove up to the curb. Two of the men jumped out and drew revolvers, and ordered him to throw up his hands, he said, and one searched him, taking the money from his pocket. They then ran back to the machine and the third man, who had kept the engine running, drove them away.

The police report said the robbery, according to Wurth, was witnessed by neighbors. Wurth told a Post-Dispatch reporter that after being robbed he complained that he had no carfare and one of the robbers gave him back 51 cents, putting it in Wurth's coat pocket and not permitting him to lower his hands. They then turned him around so that he could not see them, and drove slowly by him. Wurth escaped, he said, but a man and woman living across the street, who had witnessed the robbery, told him of the men getting away in the automobile. He said the man who drove up in the machine as he left his home and drove slowly behind him until ready to rob him.

Kidnap and Rob Victim. Seibert W. Sutton, 29 years old, a florist, 3615 A Folsom avenue, was seriously wounded at 1 a. m. when he was "kidnaped" from his home by two men posing as city detectives and led to a point several blocks away, where he was beaten and robbed. Doctors who were called after he had been taken home, said he had suffered concussion of the brain and scalp wounds. The victim told police he had been on his vacation, and returned with his wife yesterday from Eureka, Mo. They had retired early, and Sutton was aroused by the ringing of his doorbell. At the door he found the two men.

They said they were detectives seeking stolen property, and would like to search the house. Sutton allowed them to go through his rooms.

"There's nothing here," they said finally. "You'll have to go to the station with us, and explain to the Captain."

Sutton dressed and accompanied the men. They led him to Blaine avenue and Thirty-ninth street, where both drew revolvers, and they started to rob him. Sutton resisted, and the men beat him helplessly with the ends of their weapons until he lost his money and jewelry, they left him on the sidewalk.

Sutton revived sufficiently to go to his home later.

Two men posing as inspectors for the Kinloch Telephone Co. assaulted Mrs. Laura Pickett, 70 years old, a widow, 4012 Olive street, and robbed her of diamonds valued at $550 when she admitted them to her home at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Pickett told police she found the men at her door when she answered a ring. They said they had been sent by "headquarters" to inspect her telephone. She let them into a reception hall and started to go to another room, when they shut the front door and seized her by the neck and threw her to the floor.

The men took two diamond rings worth $300 and $150 from her fingers and one of a pair of diamond earrings from her ear. Leaving her lying on the floor, they ran out and escaped.

PROSECUTIONS FOR SALE OF BEER LIKELY OF 2.75 BEER LIKELY CASE, LOSE IN ANOTHER

District Attorney Hensley Initiates Action Will Come at Early Date.

United States District Attorney Hensley today said it was probable that all brewers and saloonkeepers who have made or sold 2 1/2 per cent beer in St. Louis will be prosecuted on a charge of violating the wartime prohibition act, the penalty being $1000 fine or one year in jail or both.

The District Attorney would not say just when the prosecutions would begin, but intimated it would be soon. "We have been gathering evidence, through the police and other channels," he said, "and we now await only the fixing of a definite policy of procedure by the Department of Justice. We have the names of all who have been making and selling beer and other drinks named in the wartime regulation. They can be called into court whenever we are ready."

The lifting of the temporary injunction against enforcement in New York has left the hands of the prosecuting officials free, according to the view taken by the Department of Justice, and it was predicted at the Federal Building today that prosecution of makers and sellers of 2 1/2 per cent beer would be launched practically at the same time in all parts of the country.

SCHMOLL INSPECTING ARMY FOOD WITH VIEW TO BUYING Welfare Director Sends Man to Investigate Feasibility of Purchasing Canned Goods for Needy.

Director of Public Welfare Schmoll today sent a representative to the Arsenal to investigate the sale of foodstuffs being held there by the Government, with a view to determining whether the city can purchase a portion of the surplus supply for use in city institutions.

Schmoll's action was the result of a request to Mayor Kiel from the Junior Chamber of Commerce that the city aid the Government authorities, if possible, in disposing of the surplus food supply.

Whether the city had funds available for such a purchase or whether it would be able to arrange a suitable rationing system for canned foods, the sale of them is prohibited on the curb markets by ordinance. He indicated the city might make special provision for offering such goods.

When it was learned by the Mayor three weeks ago that the War Department was willing to sell a miscellaneous lot of the food provisions, Schmoll telegraphed to the department. Officials thought best not to buy under this sort of arrangement, since they were not familiar with values of the food.

CITY BEGINS CUTTING WEEDS Property Owners Will Have to Pay for Work and $1 Extra.

The Health Department today began its annual campaign to rid vacant lots of weeds. Notices were posted on about 500 lots, instructing the owners to have the weeds cut within five days. In cases where this is not done, city workmen will be sent out to do the cutting.

The cost of cutting, with $1 additional charge for clerical expenses, will be charged against owners on special tax bills, in cases where the city does the work. The Health Department has an appropriation of $2500 for weed cutting.

LODGE COMMITTEE OBJECTS TO HAVING PRESIDENT APPEAR IN TREATY FIGHT

Administration Leaders Are Informed Wilson Will Not Be Invited Before Committee During Discussion and Members Will Not Go in a Body to White House.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP MAY BE HASTENED

Committee Asks Wilson to Furnish, if Not Incompatible With Public Interest, All Documents Relating to Peace Conference.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—Indications that President Wilson would not be asked to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for discussion of the peace treaty were said today to have been received in administration quarters. High administration officials intimated they had been informed by some members of the committee that the majority of that body seemed hostile to suggestions that the President be asked to appear or that the committee confer as a body with him at the White House.

Should the committee decide not to invite the President to appear before it, Mr. Wilson might begin his tour of the country earlier than he had planned. The general understanding has been that the President was "withholding" his itinerary until the Foreign Relations Committee should decide whether it desired to discuss the treaty with him.

The Foreign Relations Committee later adopted a resolution requesting the President, if not incompatible with the public interest, to furnish the committee with all documents considered by the American peace commissioners in their work on the treaty with Germany.

It was said that the resolution, of which Senator Johnson, Republican, California, was author, was adopted by virtually unanimous vote. It requests the President to submit drafts of all proposals for a league of nations as well as stenographic transcripts of formal proceedings at the peace conference.

Reading of Text Begun. The committee met again today and, laying aside temporarily the question of asking for more information, began a reading of the official text of the treaty submitted by the President.

In beginning the reading of the treaty text today, the committee, by mutual consent, deferred consideration of the league of nations covenant. Chairman Lodge read the text and frequently was interrupted by questions of various sections. Members expected that the reading would require several days.

Among administration Senators the impression prevailed that the President and the committee undoubtedly would be brought together to discuss some features of the treaty. It was expected, however, that these meetings would be held in the White House rather than at the Capitol.

In the Senate Chairman Lodge of the committee is prepared to call up for passage his resolution, reported yesterday, asking the President for a copy of an alleged secret treaty negotiated in 1918 between Japan and Germany.

Senator Lodge's resolutions as amended and reported from the Foreign Relations Committee follow: "Resolved, That the President be requested, if not incompatible with public interests, to send the Senate a copy of any treaty purporting to have been projected between Germany and Japan, referred to in the press dispatch hereto annexed, together with any information in relation to it which may be in possession of the State Department or any further information concerning any negotiation between Japan and Germany during the progress of the war."

The press dispatch was dated June 20 at Budapest and outlined the alleged treaty as containing a guarantee that Japan would safeguard indirectly Germany's interests at the Versailles peace conference.

President on Shantung Clause. Senator Hitchcock, after a telephone conversation with President Wilson, told the committee that the President was ready upon 24 hours' notice to receive the full committee membership at any hour of the day at the White House and go over in detail any provision of the treaty or any question involved in the negotiations.

President Wilson discussed the Commander Lost with Six Men on U. S. Mine Sweeper Stays on Bridge to Direct Rescue After Accident in North Sea and Goes Down.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 15.—One officer and six enlisted men were killed in the destruction of the American minesweeper Richard H. Buckley by the explosion of a mine in the North Sea July 12. Two other officers were injured.

Two officers and 16 enlisted men were rescued. The Buckley was engaged with other mine sweepers in removing the North Sea mine barrage when a mine exploded near the minesweeper. It exploded directly under the ship's stern. The trawler was shattered by the terrific impact and sank in six minutes before other vessels of the fleet could reach her.

Commander Frank A. King remained on the bridge directing the efforts to save the crew, and went down with his ship. The remainder of the dead either were killed by the explosion or trapped below decks when the vessel sank.

Cannot Wed Dead Husband's Brother.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, July 15.—An English law now stands, a man may marry his dead wife's sister, but a woman cannot wed her dead husband's brother. The point was made clear by the presiding Judge at the Northampton Assizes the other day in the cases of two women who went through the marriage service with brothers of their dead husbands. Both were held for trial.

BELL STRIKERS OF COUNTRY TO CARRY PLEA TO BURLESON

Will Assemble in Washington to Make Protest Against Treatment of Organized Labor.

Representatives from different cities of striking telephone operators and electrical workers of the Bell Telephone System will assemble in Washington in a few days for a conference with Postmaster-General Burleson, relative to the attitude of the Bell company officials towards organized labor, that may result in a general strike of Bell company employees, according to announcement today by Miss May E. Matthews of Boston, secretary of the telephone operators' department of the Electrical Workers' Union, who is leading the St. Louis striking operators.

Miss Matthews said O. E. Jennings, local organizer of the electrical workers, and herself will represent the St. Louis strikers at the conference. Jennings will depart for Washington tonight and Miss Matthews will leave Thursday, from Sedalia, where she will address a labor meeting on that day.

"The purpose of the conference with Mr. Burleson is to put the question squarely up to him whether he intends to compel the Bell Telephone Co. to abide by the provisions of his order granting the employees certain rights or prefers to chance a nationwide strike against the company," Miss Matthews said.

"We have been thinking of this general strike question on the Bell system for some time, and it will depend on the Postmaster-General's decision at the forthcoming conference if we shall have industrial peace or war."

"This conference will be the final analysis, and unless Mr. Burleson displays a disposition to force the system over which he has control to abide by his order, the great organizations of the Bell company in New England, on the Pacific Coast and in the Southwest will be called out to force the issue."

Miss Matthews said the Bell operators have 120 local organizations, 35 of which are in the Atlantic coast states, where they won a wage increase of from $10 to $19 a week a few months ago. All these cities also have local telephone company electrical workers, composed of cable splicers, linemen and general maintenance men. A general strike on the Bell system, she said, would include these men.

The cities which Miss Matthews says will be represented at the conference with Burleson are St. Louis, Louisville, Ky., Cleveland, O., Youngstown, O., Grand Rapids, Mich., Lansing, Mich., and Atlanta, Ga. Officials of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, whose headquarters are at Springfield, Ill., also will attend.

Open Session Tomorrow. The local strikers met last night in executive session, at Hibernian Hall, 2615 Phinney avenue, and will have an open meeting in the same hall at 10 a. m. tomorrow. They continue to picket the different exchanges, and Hotel Jefferson, where girls from other cities, who came here to take strikers' places, are quarantined.

Officials of the Bell company say the Bell service is improving daily. The strikers assert it is still impaired.

Five pickets were arrested yesterday at the Bonmont exchange, Beaumont and Locust streets, on a peace disturbance charge, and were released on bonds. They are Miss Nellie O'Connor and Florence Greer of 2613 Eads avenue; Edward Buehler, 2715 Blair avenue; William Schuartz, 2410 Whittier street; and E. M. Ray, 1007 North Garrison avenue. The pickets assert they violated no law.

Street Car Men Vote to Give Help in Two Strikes. The street carmen's union, at two meetings held yesterday at 2228 Olive street, voted moral and financial support to the local unions of the International Brotherhood of Electrical workers, with which the striking telephone operators are affiliated, and the structural ironworkers, for strikers at the Stupp Bros. Iron Works. One hundred dollars was donated to each organization.

The same resolution embodying this action also contained an order for all members of the carmen's union who have Bell telephones to have them removed, the resolution providing a fine of $10 for disobedience of the order. The union has more than 5000 members.

The resolution was adopted following an address by Miss May Matthews of Boston, leader of the local telephone operators on strike, who explained the grievances of the girls and their need of financial support.

Unrest among the men, occasioned by delay in the hearing of their demands for a shorter workday and increased pay by the Public Service Commission, prompted an address by President H. M. Nelson at the morning session, in which he urged the men not to think of striking, but to be patient at least two weeks longer, when he hoped to report that a date for the hearing had been set.

Frank P. O'Shea, international vice president of the union, spoke at the night meeting, assuring the men their case was being properly handled and warning them not to make a mistake through impatience.

able in Louisville today, for the first time since 400 employees of the Cumberland and Home Telephone companies struck, two weeks ago, for higher wages. The two companies which operate the only telephone service in the city are said to have imported enough operators and linemen to resume service. Company officials look for an early end of the strike.

Burleson Ruling for Companies Fails to End Cleveland Strike.
 By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, July 15.—A ruling by Postmaster-General Burleson that Cleveland's two telephone companies are not compelled to recognize unions under order No. 3209 failed to bring settlement of the three-day strike of operators and electrical workers.

The ruling came in reply to a telegram sent by Acting Mayor Fitzgerald, asking interpretation of the order. Burleson said that orders have been given for the restoration of telephone service here.

Union leaders declared that strikers would not return to work until the employees are granted union recognition. Normal service was reported by officials of both companies.

JULY CLEARANCE

The Greatest Value-Giving Event of the Year

PROBABLY Every woman in St. Louis has, at one time or another, witnessed a great Moving Picture Spectacle which so impressed her she went to see it again. On her second visit she saw many scenes, details and happenings which she completely missed on her first visit, although the picture was identically the same. This very same thing happens to the women who attend a great sale, such as the one we are having this week. The assortment of merchandise is so vast that a shopper is bound to overlook many lovely garments on her first visit; so if you were here yesterday, don't fail to come back tomorrow or the next day and see those garments you completely missed yesterday.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING
Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—ADV.

Tobacco Habit Dangerous

Dr. J. H. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process and a risk worth taking. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets. Take them as directed and in the perilous habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refuse the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Dr. J. H. Connor how to avoid it in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets. You will be surprised at the result.—ADVERTISMENT.

CHARGES AGAINST SELPH TO BE GIVEN HOUSE COMMITTEE

Representative Newton Says He Will Present Petition From St. Louis Postoffice Employees.

INCIDENTAL ATTACK MADE ON BURLESON

Complaint Declares Postmaster Was Encouraged in Alleged Autocracy by Head of Department.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—The charges against Postmaster Selph of St. Louis, made by several postoffice employees and forwarded to Representative Newton of the Tenth Missouri District, will be laid before the House Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads, Newton said today. "He is a member of the committee."

The question of an investigation will rest with the committee, of which Representative Stearnson of Minnesota is chairman. The most active member of the committee is Representative Madden of Illinois, who ranks next to the chairman. If the committee, on examining the charges, deems an investigation desirable, the procedure will be to introduce a resolution in Congress, asking for authority to send a subcommittee to St. Louis to take testimony.

Names Are Withheld.
The charges against Selph were outlined exclusively in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch. Their authors have stipulated that their names shall not be made public unless and until a congressional inquiry is determined upon, in which case they believe they will be protected against discharge or discriminatory treatment.

The charges against Selph contain an incidental attack on Postmaster-General Burleson. In the first section of the complaint, which charges Selph with introducing an autocratic rule into the postoffice, these sentences appear: "It is highly probable that he had been 'Burlesonized' before he took office, as he had spent some time in Washington. But that was unnecessary, as the nature of the man was the same before he saw Burleson. The visit to Washington, however, served to give him confidence that he would have the support of the administration in all his policies, and he has had that support."

"He has made the St. Louis Postoffice just as Burleson himself would have made it. There is no doubt that Burleson considers Selph an ideal Postmaster. If asked his opinion of Selph he would surely say, 'He is a man after my own heart; the best Postmaster in the United States.'"

Part of Blame on System.
In another of the charges against Selph, that of setting impossible standards of work for the carriers, the blame is partly placed on the Postoffice Department. Under the heading, "The Efficiency System," the complaint reads:

"The 'Efficiency System,' as adopted by the Postoffice Department, laid down working rules by men who never did a day's work as letter carriers, fixes an arbitrary schedule of office time and route time for each district. It never did and never will work out, because its requirements are a physical impossibility, but this administration in St. Louis loves it most and insists that it must work out. The endeavor to enforce it has resulted in discontent and unrest among the men, and in the use of the methods of the slave driver and the steamboat mate by the supervisors."

Charges Inefficiency.
The charge that the efficiency system promotes inefficiency, in handling mail matter sent out by business houses, is made in this paragraph:

"In their efforts to conform to the schedule, men frequently grab up their mail and rush out with it unsorted. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage."

The charges against Selph, as outlined previously, are: Autocratic rule, unreasonable transfers, browbeating of men in so-called conferences, forbidding men under charges to seek advice, Sunday inspections on the men's time, "patriotic fund" made up by men, spent for public objects, but in such a way that the Postmaster got the credit; unreasonable requirements as to purchase of uniforms and caps, hostile policy towards employees' organizations, scalloped edges on letter covers, 90c pillows, all feather filled, for porch or camping use. Size 17x25; each $1.95. 25c Pillow, size 20x26; extra well filled, covered with best ticking, each $1.95.

FIVE Years in Service— A Pair of Truck Tires

Well may the Ernest Eulert Mustard Mills, 675 Morgan Street, Brooklyn, lay claim to a national record for tire service.

Twin Goodrich De Luxe Truck Tires, they announce, on the left rear wheel of one of their 3-ton trucks have been serving faithfully day in and day out for five years—piling up 40,000 miles and still taking the sledge-hammer blows of the road with an even inch-and-a-half rubber tread left.

Such service—the most noteworthy recorded—proves convincingly:

That De Luxe Tires have exceptional durability.

That De Luxe Tires possess a live, flexible, rubber compound that will not deteriorate no matter how the years roll by.

And with these essentials can carry your loads anywhere at lowest cost.

MACHINE WITH 25,000 LAMPS SEEN IN PARIS CELEBRATION

"Grandiose," 3000 Feet Long, Is Dragged Through Streets Showing "Celebrities' Portraits."

PARIS, July 15.—Paris kept up its victory day celebration this morning. The climax of the night's proceedings was the appearance of "Grandiose," especially brought from Florence, where it was made for the occasion. It consisted of a series of connected panels, brilliantly illuminated by 25,000 lamps and adorned with the portraits of the allied rulers and celebrities, together with inscriptions recalling the principal events of the war.

The whole contrivance was more than 3000 feet long. Eight hundred soldiers dragged the immense machine through the principal streets on both sides of the Seine, its progress accompanied by the strains of military band music and its appearance everywhere being welcomed with immense delight by the people. The densest crowds were in the Champs Elysees, where the illuminated portraits were particularly beautiful. President Poincaré has written to Premier Clemenceau asking him in the name of the country to convey to the French armies in the field the moment the passionate admiration and gratitude of the republic. The Premier sent congratulations to the allied commanders and concluded the letter to Marshal Foch with the reminder that "from the victory of war there remains the victory of peace to be achieved."

UNION OFFICIAL ARRESTED ON CHARGE ON DRAWING REVOLVER

Policemen Are Told That He Flourished Weapon When Striking Teamster Angered Him.

Charles Lanham, 1624 North Sixteenth street, secretary of the Teamsters' Union, was arrested at Eleven and Spruce streets today after the police had been told he had flourished a revolver in front of the stables of the Columbia Transfer Co., Broadway and Spruce street, where employees are on a strike.

A telephone message was received that there was a disturbance at the stables. When policemen arrived they were told Lanham drove up in an automobile and advised the strikers to go back to work, as the strike was not sanctioned by the union. It was said one of the men made a remark which angered Lanham and he jumped from his automobile and drew a revolver.

When Lanham was arrested half an hour later he was in an automobile, but had no weapon. He denied he had been near the Columbia Transfer stables. He was charged with disturbing the peace and released on bond.

POLICE BREAK UP FAMILY FIGHT

Woman Wields Butcher Knife, Saying Husband Knocked Her Down.

Police at 1:15 o'clock this morning arrested Harry Alt, 36 years old, department manager for the Simmons Hardware Co., and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Alt, 32 years old, 2617 North Fourteenth street, in the midst of a fight. When they entered the kitchen of the Alt home they found the couple struggling.

Mrs. Alt had a butcher knife and Alt was bleeding from a wound in the hand and one in the back. Mrs. Alt had bruises on her face. She said her husband had knocked her down. The husband was given treatment at the city dispensary and locked up, while the wife was taken to the city hospital.

At the hospital physicians said she was suffering from alcoholism as well as from the effect of the beating.

INQUIRY FOR WAR RISK BUREAU

Hughes Heads Committee to Advise How Men May Benefit Most.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Bureau of War Risk Insurance was thrown open today to a special committee headed by Charles Evans Hughes, which, at the invitation of Director Chalmers Jones, will study the bureau's work and advise how Government insurance and compensation can be made of the greatest value to service men after their return to civil life.

In a general report on the bureau's activities, the director showed that 25,613 death claims and claims for disability through military service in 10,132 cases had been approved. Government allowances to dependents have amounted to $237,000,000.

MISS STEARNS TO COME HERE

Milwaukee Woman Will Make Address at Ratification Picnic.

Miss Lillie E. Stearns of Milwaukee is being brought here by the Equal Suffrage League for the Ratification picnic Friday, at Forest Park Picnic Grounds No. 1. She will speak on "What the Vote Can Mean to Women" after supper, which will be at 6 p. m.

After Miss Stearns has talked the picnicers will go to the Municipal Theater, where, between acts, a brief ceremony will be held celebrating the ratification of the Federal Amendment by the Missouri Legislature.

A block of tickets is reserved for the suffragists at Kieselhorst's, 1007 Olive street, until noon Friday. After that tickets may be had at the Municipal Theater box office, but not reserved.

SOLDIER SUES FOR DIVORCE

Charges That Wife Associated With Other Men While He Fought.

Arthur W. Balven, a returned overseas soldier, yesterday filed suit to divorce Lillian M. Balven, alleging that while he was fighting in France she was associating with other men. He also charges that she scrutinized the casualty lists daily to see if he had been killed, asserting that in so doing she was prompted by a desire to see his name.

They were married Jan. 24, 1918. Balven was mustered into service the following April. When he returned home June 11, 1919, he learned that he had lost his wife's love. He served with the 342d Machine Gun Battalion. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Walter R. Mayne, who served in the army as a Lieutenant and was wounded in action in France. Balven is in business with a film company.

PROTEST MADE AT PROPOSAL TO BAR DEAF MUTES AS AUTOISTS

School Principal Writes Aldermen No Accident Ever Has Been Reported.

The Rev. James R. Cloud, principal of the Gallaudet School for Deaf Mutes, and pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Mission, has addressed a letter to each member of the Board of Aldermen, protesting against a proposed ordinance which would deprive deaf autoists of the right to operate their cars.

He maintains that deaf mutes who drive cars observe a vigilant watch, and are extremely careful to observe all signals, and to watch the traffic. Not one accident, he says, has ever been met with by a deaf mute driving a car. He says he knows of eight deaf mutes who own automobiles in this city, and there are perhaps 12 who drive cars regularly.

16 FIREMEN OVERCOME BY HEAT AT $50,000 BLAZE

Plant of Woods & Down Box Co. Destroyed—Spontaneous Combustion Believed Cause.

Sixteen firemen and a spectator were overcome by smoke and heat at a $50,000 fire that destroyed the plant of the Woods & Down Box Co., Thirteenth and Mulanphy streets, yesterday afternoon.

The fire, which is believed to have been the result of spontaneous combustion in a storeroom in the rear of the second floor of the corrugated iron building, was discovered at 3:10 o'clock, and burned for nearly three hours. Firemen played streams of water on the debris all night.

Firemen overcome were Henry M. Ponte, 42 years old, 4225 Sullivan avenue; Oscar Knickmeyer, 29, 3014 Hickory street; Capt. William O'Connell, 38, 1732 O'Fallon street; David Carls, 40, 1954 North Jefferson avenue; Joseph Morgan, 38, 3447 Texas avenue; Lieut. Thomas Coleman, 43, 1468A Blackstone avenue; Clarence L. Winwood, 39, 2718 Salena street; Frank Egenreicher, 29, 2446 Oregon avenue; John W. Barthold, 33, 3966 Kennerly avenue; William Ahing, 39, 2101 Palm street; Bernard Gummels, 35, 4544 Virginia avenue; Capt. Charles E. Wagner, 35, 4913 Botanical avenue; Joseph Le Page, 29, 2942 Montgomery street; William Bruce, 30, 1238A North Euclid avenue; Lieut. Steven Hartwig, 35, 1012 North Eleventh street; and Fred Malendy, 30, 3843 Finney avenue.

The spectator was Sidney Hustich, 25 years old, a machinist, of 2769A Arsenal street. None is in a serious condition.

U. R. BEING DEFRAUDED BY CONDUCTORS, SAYS ATTORNEY

Explains Signs in Cars Requesting Passengers to Deposit Own Fares in Boxes.

Signs in street cars requesting passengers to drop their coins in the fare box and not give the money to conductors are a measure to prevent conductors from cheating the company, Thomas E. Francis, an attorney for the company, said today.

While no estimate could be made, he said he was positive that the company is being defrauded out of "enormous sums."

The practice, which was described exclusively in the Post-Dispatch Feb. 7, consists of flattening out dimes to the diameter of pennies, and cutting nickels down to that size. These "doctored" coins are given as change to passengers, who usually drop them in fare boxes, where they register as pennies, because of their size. Thus, on a defective dime and two pennies, the box registers 4 cents, leaving the conductor a "profit" of 9 cents.

In order to make certain, some conductors have dropped the coins in themselves, handing passengers the change, Francis said. The signs are designed to eliminate this practice. Conductors caught cheating while the company is in the hands of a receiver probably would be in contempt of court, Francis said.

STEPHEN CHAUDET DIES AT HOME

Attack of Heart Disease Proves Fatal to Aged Man.

Stephen Chaudet, 73 years old, retired, died at his home, 3828 Lindell boulevard, yesterday at 12:15 p. m. of heart disease.

Last March, when he was pronounced incurable, the War Department was asked to release three of his sons, Capt. Felix of the 79th Coast Artillery, and Sergt. Robert and Corp. William of the 128th Field Artillery. Felix was stationed at Feneu and the other two boys at Dagonville, France. The request was immediately forwarded to Gen. Pershing, who honored it and ordered their immediate release. They came over on a French passenger steamer and arrived three weeks later.

Chaudet is also survived by his widow and another son, Dr. L. S. Chaudet.

WARRANTS IN MEANS CASE

By the Associated Press.

CONCORD, N. C., July 15.—Charging conspiracy in the prosecution of Gaston B. Means, for the alleged murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, for subordination of perjury in connection with the trial of Means in 1917, warrants have been issued here for John T. Dooling, Assistant District Attorney of New York, and William B. Miller, attorney for the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago.

Dooling assisted Solicitor Hayden Clement in the prosecution of Means, in December, 1917, and representatives of the Northern Trust Co. were witnesses for the State. Means was acquitted.

MRS. TREPAGNIER CONVICTED

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Mrs. Vera Trepagnier, a widow of New Orleans, on trial before Judge Britano in the Criminal Court, charged with the murder of Paul Frederick Volland, a publisher, last night was found guilty of manslaughter.

Mrs. Trepagnier, who is 60 years old, is one of the few women to be convicted in Chicago for killing a man in the last several years. Mrs. Trepagnier charged that Volland had refused to settle with her for publication of a likeness of George Washington, and during an altercation over the miniature original, she shot him at his office. The State did not ask the death penalty.

Union Trust Expands Quarters.
The St. Louis Union Trust Co. yesterday took over the quarters formerly occupied by the St. Louis Union Bank at Fourth and Locust streets. It formerly used these quarters jointly with the bank, which recently merged with the Mechanics' American National and the Third National to form the new First National Bank of St. Louis.

BASTILLE DAY CELEBRATED

The first French fete in St. Louis since the close of the war was held at Forest Park Highlands last night. This is the annual celebration of the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille.

It was under the direction of the French Society.

The principal speakers were Gus V. R. Mechin and Marc Seguin, French Consul in St. Louis. Miss Florence Robbins sang the "Marseillaise" and the "Star-Spell."

GERMAN TRADE LICENSES ISSUED

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—General licenses covering import and export trading with Germany were issued late yesterday by the War Trade Division of the State Department, with the approval of Acting Secretary Polk. Except in certain limited cases,provided under the treaty of peace, trading between the United States

REAL ITALIAN WEDDING FETE
HELD HERE DESPITE PROHIBITIONMariani and Balsano Families Stored Native Wines Before July 1 and Invited Neighborhood to Share Them.Customs of South Italy were in evidence at a celebration yesterday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Sam Mariani, 1338 Clara avenue, following the marriage of Miss May Balsano and Joseph Mariani. The Rev. Father Cesare Spigardi of the Church of St. Charles Borromeo officiated.The bride is the youngest sister of Mrs. Sam Mariani and the bridegroom is a brother of her husband.
The two families not only invited all their friends to the marriage feast, but extended a blanket invitation to all their neighbors and this included the children as well. Not to have the occasion marred by the war prohibition act, they laid in a store of Italian wines far in advance of July 1.There was an orchestra on the lawn and dancing for all. The children, who gathered in blocks around, were regaled with fruits and nuts, while the elders had their choice of many wines and foods. The old country custom of bestowing money presents on the bride was followed and a bed was literally covered with bills. These gifts, however, came only from the immediate friends of the couple, and the amount was estimated at $500.
The Marianis came to this country about 10 years ago and are shoe designers. Their wives were born in this city.NAVY WILL TAKE MEN FOR TWO, THREE AND FOUR YEARSEnlistment Periods to Vary at Option of Recruit, According to Order From Washington.Commander E. A. Brooks of the Navy Recruiting Station has received a telegram from the Navy Department authorizing enlistments in the navy for terms of two, three or four years. Enlistments are authorized for two, three or four years, at the option of the recruit in all ratings now open for first enlistment, except that applicants for machinists' mates and for aviation mechanics will not be enlisted for shorter periods than three years.Minors under 18 may be enlisted for two or three years, with consent of parent or guardian.Men re-enlisting for two, three or four years are entitled to extra pay for enlistment on continuous service, extra pay for citizenship and to two, three or four months' honorable discharge gratuity, respectively, if re-enlisting after honorable discharge.
Present war pay will be permanent for men during current enlistment, and for all men enlisting or re-enlisting prior to July 1, 1919, at the term of such enlistment or re-enlistment.Competent musicians are desired for a recruiting band that is being organized to tour the Central States.
This band leaves Chicago Aug. 4.

St., St. Louis, Mo. 24 floor, 808 N. 1st St.—ADV.14 MISSOURI CONGRESSMEN VOTED TO OVER-RIDE VETOSpecial to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—With two exceptions all members of the Missouri delegation of 16 voted yesterday to override the President's veto of the agricultural appropriation bill. The two were Igoe of St.
Louis, who did not vote, and Blundell of Kansas City, who voted to sustain the President in his stand for daylight saving.The House refused yesterday, by a vote of 247 to 135, to pass the measure over the President's veto.
Strength mustered by the repeal advocates was eight votes less than the necessary two-thirds of the members present. Party lines were disregarded in the voting, members from agricultural districts—the source of most of the opposition—favoring passage of the bill. Representatives from the urban districts opposed it.House advocates of the repeal said after the agricultural bill had been sent back to committee for elimination of the repeal provision that no further effort would be made at this Congress to wipe out the daylight saving act. There was no indication, they said, that they would be able to strengthen their forces.
Senate leaders also indicated that no action would be originated in that body to repeal the act.WALSH AND SHANNON HERE, DISCUSS IRISH SITUATIONFrank P. Walsh and Joseph B.
Shannon of Kansas City were here yesterday. Walsh arrived from Chicago, where he was with Eamon de Valera, President of the "Irish republic." Shannon was on his way home from Washington. Walsh was one of the Irish-American commissioners who returned a week ago from France, where they went to obtain recognition of the "republic" by the peace conference."Three out of five Sinn Fein candidates were elected to Parliament from Ulster at the last election," Walsh said. "That indicates how strong the movement for liberty is in Ireland. Sir Edward Carson's own candidate was beaten by a Sinn Feiner."He added that "one of the strong nations" of Europe will take up Ireland's fight for independence if the United States does not.Shannon, for years a leading Democratic politician, declared himself unalterably opposed to the league of nations and said the Irish of this country will vote the Republican ticket in 1920 if the Republicans will refuse to ratify the league plan. He said that "Jim Reed is the strongest man in Missouri, and is getting stronger."

MARINE WORKERS' STRIKE GROWS

Seamen of Shipping Board Vessels
Join in Demonstration.By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 14.—The demands of striking marine workers at this and other Atlantic ports for union recognition today continued to be the principal stumbling block in the way of settlement of the walkout, which late yesterday affectedvessels operated by the United States Shipping Board. The spread of the strike to the Government controlled boats resulted from a refusal of Shipping Board officials to grant the seamen's demands for three shifts of eight hours at sea and preference to union members.Further efforts to end the strike were resumed today, but union leaders predicted that unless the man's demands were met in full there was little chance for an agreement.

SOCIETY WOMEN TAKE BIG PART IN PICNIC

Are Managing Concessions at Catholic Outing at Normandy Grove Today.

An event of today in which a number of society women will take an active part, is the picnic of the Catholic Women's League, scheduled for this afternoon and evening at Normandy Grove. Mrs. Theodore Benoit and Mrs. W. T. Donovan, president and vice president of the league, head the Committee of Arrangements.
The various units of the league will be in charge of the different concessions that will be a feature of the picnic. The big attraction will be a chicken dinner, that will be served continuously during the evening by the women of the St. Mark's Parish unit under the Weinert of the wheel of fortune, and Mrs. J. L. Calhane will be at the prize table. The soft drinks will be dispensed through a committee headed by Mrs. Charles J. Gallagher. Mrs. George R. Mathieu will preside over the grab bags, and Mrs. John Walsh over the ice cream concession.

Social Items

An engagement which has recently become known is that of Miss Queenie Deacon and Thomas Stephen Martin of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Dundee, Scotland. Miss Deacon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Richard Deacon of Kettering Lodge, Webster, and received her education at Mary Institute and Miss Bennett's school at Millbrook, N. Y. She is spending the summer at Lake Champlain, N. Y., with her mother and sister, Virginia. The wedding will take place after her return in the fall.

Miss Dorothy Reinmund arrived Sunday evening from Englewood, N. Y., to be the guest for two weeks of Miss Esther Capen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Capen of the Kingsbury Apartments. Friends of Miss Capen are planning several informal affairs in honor of her guest, the first of which will be given by Miss Katherine Treat, 5540 Delmar boulevard, who will entertain this evening at dinner, followed by dancing.

Mrs. Julius S. Walsh of 4493 Lindell boulevard is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Johnson of 25 Portland place at their summer home at Rye, N. Y. Mrs. Walsh expects to go to Narragansett Pier in August.

Miss Florence Aufderheide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Aufderheide of 3918 Flora boulevard, whose marriage to Louis Suss will take place July 19, has had a number of prenuptial affairs given in her honor.

Mrs. John B. Shapleigh and her daughter, Miss Margaret Shapleigh of 4956 Berlin avenue, will depart August 1 for Harbor Point, Mich., to spend a month. They will go from there to Estes Park, Colo., to spend a few weeks.

Mrs. Frank B. Coleman of 6141 Westminster place, who recently returned from an extended visit to New Orleans, Galveston and other southern points, has gone with her three children to their summer home at Pentwater, Mich., to remain until September.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Dennis of 4956 Maple have departed on a three weeks' trip through Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City and western points.

Mrs. Adam Joerdor of 4928 West Pine boulevard and her daughter, Mrs. James Ainslee, are spending the summer at South Haven, Mich., where they have leased a cottage.

Mrs. J. A. Rouveyrol of Clayton and Skinker road and her two children have gone to Salt Lake City, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Rouveyrol's parents.

St. Margaret's Church will be the scene of a pretty wedding tomorrow when Miss Vivian Hehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hehl of 2817 Lafayette avenue, will become the bride of W. Paul Fox of Chicago. The marriage will take place at 5:30 o'clock, with Father Flannigan officiating. A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents at 7:30 o'clock. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Cain, and the bridesmaid, Miss Marie Fox, will wear frocks of pink satin and georgette, with large tulle hats of the same shade. They will carry shower bouquets of Killarney roses. Miss Fox's little sister, Marjorie, will be flower girl, and will wear a frock of white ruffled net. Messrs. John Murphy and Maurice Fox and Roy

Beef—
It's Cheap Food
Compared with prewar price levels, beef is one of the cheapest of essential foods today. Other foods have advanced to much higher points—and remained there. A survey conducted by the Health Commissioner of Chicago showed the following price increases for the current year over 1913-14:

Flour	210%
Sugar	115%
Milk	87%
Round Steak	86%
Eggs	80%
Sirloin Steak	61%

Beef is one of the best values in the food line and there is plenty of it.
The need for conservation for military purposes is past.

CUPPLES TIRES

MADE IN ST. LOUIS

Some Inside Facts

By Glenn

I have been repairing and vulcanizing tires of all makes for many years. My business requires that I cut them open—take them apart—know what the insides are like after usage of all kinds. I have seen Cupples Tires made—I have seen what goes into them and how they are built. I also know how they compare with others under all conditions—how they look from the inside after different kinds of usage.

While I have suggested to the manufacturers 7500 miles as an adjustment basis, I know from years of experience in taking care of the city trade that, barring accidents and mistreatment, the new buyer can expect to get an average of near 10,000 miles when the tires are properly cared for at all times.

My guarantee is that the users of Cupples Tires shall be satisfied.

Free road service? There is no such thing as "Free." Wouldn't you prefer to get the lowest price on your tires at all times and then pay a small service charge of 50c or so when served on the road rather than pay an inflated price of several dollars each on ALL your tires to get the so-called free (?) road service?

Phone Glenn

GUARANTEE—Cupples Tire users shall be satisfied.

PRICES—The lowest possible because of direct connection with factory right here at home.

SERVICE—Phone us—one of our hurry-hurry cars will at once give you road service within reasonable limits at a minimum 50c (or $1) cost and NO ADVANCE in tire prices on account of such service. We carry a full line of Cupples Tires and Red Inner Tubes—will make quick delivery—anywhere—at any time.

FREE INSPECTION—CUPPLES Tire dealers will give you weekly free tire inspection service—they will keep them properly inflated—will report small cuts or anything that needs attention. Make it your rule to use this free service. It will save you money and trouble.

"TRADE-INS"—Liberal allowance made on your old tires—bring them with you.

BIG NEED OF RIVER IS TERMINALS, SAYS SANDERS, AT HOME

Federal Manager of Barge
Line Reaches Washington
After Inspection Trip to Europe.

HOLDS CONFERENCE ON JOINT TARIFFS

Believes St. Louis Will Be Granted Rates Desired as Soon as Adequate Facilities Are Provided.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Future successful operation of the barge line on the Mississippi River depends to a large extent on the building of satisfactory terminals at the main ports. M. J. Sanders, Federal manager of the line, who reached Washington yesterday after a trip to Europe, expressed this conviction at the end of a busy day given to familiarize himself with waterway developments during his absence of seven weeks. Sanders was met at Montreal by Theodore Brent, traffic manager of the line. On arrival here they lost no time in getting in touch with the Railroad Administration before which is pending the St. Louis application for joint through rail and water rates, considered essential to the permanent welfare of the river service.

A conference that Sanders described as "satisfactory" was held with Edward Chambers, director of traffic of the Railroad Administration, whose O. K. is necessary on any tariff schedule.

Must Have Terminals.
"The question of tariffs," said Sanders, "is closely tied up with that of adequate terminals. I feel that as soon as we have such terminals at the main ports of the Mississippi—St. Louis, Memphis and Vicksburg—St. Louis will find the Railroad Administration ready to authorize the additional tariffs for which we have applied."

Sanders' attention was called to statements made by some St. Louis shippers holding Brent responsible for the failure of the barge line to obtain the desired rail and water tariffs. Sanders replied with some heat, that Mr. Brent is not to blame for delays in the granting of tariffs. The matter is one of policy, which must and will be decided here in Washington. Mr. Brent has done all in his power to insure the earliest possible acceptance of all the tariffs that St. Louis commerce desires. There is no man in this country who has as capable a grasp of general transportation problems, and is at the same time such an earnest advocate of waterway development as Mr. Brent."

Discuss Successor to Mackie.
During the day Sanders saw James E. Smith of St. Louis, head of the Mississippi Valley Waterways Association, who is here to urge legislation by Congress favorable to the waterways. The question of a successor to A. W. Mackie, who recently resigned as manager of the Mississippi branch of the Mississippi-Warrior system, was discussed. Sanders said afterward that he had not yet reached a decision.

Sanders scoffed at the recommendation made by a railroad investigator that storage afloat should be provided for export freight at New Orleans. "The idea," he declared, "is childish and absurd as would be the use of railway cars as warehouses at rail terminals."

Sanders has proposed, instead, that the Allabo warehouse at New Orleans be leased for this purpose. He said that it was the only available structure in sight and was recommended by him solely for that reason. The question will go to Director-General Hines for decision.

White Man and Negro Hurt in Clash.
By the Associated Press.
PORT ARTHUR, Tex., July 13.—Clarence Paxton and J. B. Perrie, a negro, are in a hospital seriously injured and several other persons are less seriously hurt as a result of a clash here yesterday between about 20 white men and 40 negroes. The trouble started on a street car when a white man objected to a negro smoking in the presence of a woman passenger, according to the police.

New England is Calling

Calling you to the woods and lakes of Maine, where game fish rise to the fly and guides paddle silently over still waters.

Calling you to the White and Green Mountains, with their noble outlooks, magnificent roads, golf, and charming society.

Calling you to its seashore, north and south of Plymouth Rock—Bar Harbor, Cape Cod, Narragansett, Martha's Vineyard, Nantucket. New England is one joyous land of vacation pleasures and sports, sunshine and youth.

THE RESORTS OF NEW YORK STATE—the Adirondack Mountains, Thousand Islands, Niagara Falls, Saratoga Springs, Lakes George and Champlain—are everywhere known as outdoor playgrounds of surpassing beauty and historic interest.

ON THE NEW JERSEY COAST—from Cape May to New York Bay, Atlantic City, Asbury Park, Ocean Grove—forty world-famous beaches with every seaside attraction, and, seemingly, all the people in the world.

The United States Railroad Administration invites you to travel and offers Summer Excursion fares. Your local ticket agent, or the nearest Consolidated Ticket Office, will help plan your trip. What St. Louis Merchants Think of the Post-Dispatch

Significant is the fact that the Post-Dispatch Gain in Home-Merchants' Advertising for the six months ending June 30, 1919

EXCEEDED THE GAIN IN HOME-MERCHANTS' ADVERTISING OF ALL FOUR OTHER ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPERS COMBINED BY 171,300 LINES

The record made during this period increases the already overwhelming lead which the Post-Dispatch has had over all other newspapers in St. Louis and the Great Southwest, and justifies the common expression that

"St. Louis Is a
'One Newspaper Town' "

The gains made in all departments MEASURED IN AGATE LINES, NOT MISLEADING PERCENTAGES—convincingly show the tendency of both Home and National Advertisers more and more toward

Globe-Democrat, Star,
Times and Republic. COMBINED GAIN

1,223,100 Lines

POST-DISPATCH EXCESS GAIN 171,300 Lines
OVER ALL FOUR COMBINED

TOTAL PAID ADVERTISING

The Post-Dispatch carried 7,957,320 lines of Total Paid advertising during the six months' period ending June 30th, 1919—which EXCEEDED THE VOLUME CARRIED BY THREE OUT OF ALL FOUR OTHER ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPERS COMBINED BY ALMOST TWO MILLION LINES.

GAINS IN TOTAL PAID

The Post-Dispatch gain in Total Paid Advertising for this period was 2,434,880 lines—EXCEEDING THE GAIN OF ANY THREE OF THE FOUR OTHER ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPERS COMBINED.

Quarrels of Man and Wife Are Often Good for Both in Shaping Character

Revelations Made in Anger May Be Truths That Will Help Them to Open Their Eyes and See Their Faults, Whereas Blind Love Is Likely to Drive the Ship of Matrimony on the Rocks.

By FAY STEVENSON.

REALLY successful, happy marriage cannot consist of "dears" and "darlings," and "just right." Two people living under the same roof year after year could not possibly always do "just right." There must be some mistakes, and there must be some hard hills to climb, and the only way to get to the top of the hill is to look squarely at things just as they are.

One of the greatest aids to a happy married life is truth, and if a thing isn't right it is better to say so at once.

Couples who boast that they never had a quarrel in all their married life do not realize how tame and unprofitable they are confessing their existence to be. They might just as well say: "We don't want to lift a finger to help one another to develop in any way. We never disagree because it's easier to agree. We don't care what the other thinks or does so why should we quarrel?"

But the couples who are "head-over-heels" in love with each other do care, and because they care they quarrel now and then.

It is human nature for people to tell us things when they are angry or perturbed at us which they never dream of saying when they are in a calm, placid, happy-go-lucky mood. And nine times out of ten these are things it is good for us to know.

Couples who go drifting quietly along life's current with never a ripple or a splash miss all the advantage that comes from the revelations made in the heat of a quarrel. The fact that they never have even a tiny tiff means that their eyes are closed to each other's faults. And that could be more unfortunate than a blind, indifferent married life.

Better a marriage which glares and bellows occasionally, even to the point of tears, if by this means truths are brought out that help husband and wife to mend their ways. Better the spicy tiff if it sheds light upon weakness of character than a life-long camouflage of flattery and flattery.

There is no surer way of driving the matrimonial ship on the rocks than too much blind love.

A man and a woman are making love they enumerate over and over again one another's sweet, good characteristics and praiseworthy accomplishments. It is only when each belongs to each other enough to quarrel that they mention all the weak, miserable characteristics and qualities which they have noticed all the time. And this is just what marriage should be made much happier by the right sort of quarrels.

To reach its highest goal, marriage must be an eye-opener. "Two wrongs don't make a right," but a tongue and four eyes ought to be better than one tongue and two eyes.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

Lucy's Lesson.

LUCY was in a bad humor. First, it was a rainy day, and she had expected to go to the moving pictures with two girls. But that was not all. It was too wet to go out, and now she must wait to get dinner. Tommy, the baby, was fretting, and Lucy had to help him.

"I think it is too bad I can never have any pleasure at all," she exclaimed, with tears in her eyes. "Some girls never have things happen like I do."

Now, the truth was that Lucy was so selfish, and so seldom thought of anything except her own wants, that she knew nothing of anyone's troubles. All her ideas, her thoughts, her plans, began and ended in what she wanted to do or intended doing.

Lucy's mother saw the red eyes, the pouting mouth.

"The fact is, my daughter," said the mother, "you do not appreciate what you have. If you continue to be so selfish, so ill-tempered, you will some day meet the fate of the old lion."

But Lucy flounced out of the room with an angry look.

After dinner, when she sat rocking Tommy to sleep, she felt a strange, heavy feeling herself. Shaking her head, she glanced around. In front of her, instead of the door to the hall, was a tall mirror, which she had never seen before. And by its side was a man, taller than the door, dressed in a suit of gray. His hair was long, his arms like sticks, and in one hand there was a long, silver wand.

"My dear child," he said, bowing low before Lucy, "I am going to show you the genuine original moving picture which was invented in Fairyland 10,000 years ago. It shows the history of the old lion about whom your mother talks."

He waved his wand. The surface of the mirror glowed. Across it drifted a mist out of which there seemed to come a forest and then through it was seen a young lion, looking madly about. Everything fell before his paws the other beasts either fled at his approach or prostrated to his friends. He was lord of all and all bowed before him.

Then the scene in the mirror changed. The leaves had fallen, the lion was no longer young. He staggered slowly as if in pain, his coat some glossy was rough and he was feeble and old.

None of the animals noticed him. Those who had pretended to like him

One of the finest things about marriage is that two people living together for years can, if they will, benefit by each other's different viewpoints of life.

The moment a husband discovers that his wife is taking a narrow, restricted view of anything it is his duty to try to broaden her vision, no matter how it causes friction and "start something." It is the combats of life that develop character.

In the same way, when a wife realizes that her husband is taking wrong views of life, it is her duty to make him see himself as other see him.

People seldom like to be told their faults, but it is greatly for their good that they be told, and marriage ought to teach them to grudge and bear the truth. The little tiffs about their accompanying words of bitter truth, are the very things which teach a man and a woman the real value of life.

Instead of always living happily ever afterward, like mere fairyland folk, it is far better to disagree once in a while. In the argument that ensues, numerous valuable hints about each other's character are sure to be dropped. Perhaps the reason most old maids and bachelors are so narrow in their points of view is simply because they never had anyone to tell them a few little things about themselves. Matrimony would change all this eccentricity and narrowness if allowed to take its natural course with an occasional quarrel.

Many a man has had his whole career made for him as a result of a little tiff in which he learned from his wife's lips a few truths about himself. Without this lesson his life would have been vastly different, for he would never have appreciated his own possibilities or his limitations.

And the ruler works both ways. A husband ever lived who could not utter truths about his wife in the heat of a quarrel that he would otherwise never have dared mention. The sensible wife takes heed of these revelations about herself and profits by them after the tiff is over.

Turtle-dove lovemaking is all very well, but its glamour needs to be augmented by the cold rays of truth. And these rays shine to their best advantage in clearing away difficulties of married life when husband and wife are having a vigorous fight.

It's a mistake to think quarrels do no good outside of furnishing pleasant opportunities for kissing and "making up" later. There is a great moral benefit to be gained by sensible husbands and wives from their little tiffs.

She can't find employment in helping mother with the housekeeping for the very sufficient reason that other women don't let her. Mother is still young and husky and fully able to manage her own affairs, and what's more, determined to do it.

The jealous Turk, who brooks no rival near the throne, isn't a marked man. A woman's jealousy about having another woman interfering with the way she runs her establishment.

Especially is she determined not to have her husband poking her finger into her domestic pie, because no other man ever realizes that her own little girl ever grows up into being a woman with judgment and intelligence enough to know how to make a cake without being told just how many eggs and how much sugar to put in. Therefore, the daughter at home, unless mother becomes an invalid or grows senile, is about as much real use as a fifth wheel to a wagon.

For a girl whose father maintains her in the lap of luxury to go out and get a job horrifies her family, and brings upon her the reproach of being eccentric and queer, that there is no more damning reputation.

AND nobody, least of all her parents, considers the poor girl's point of view, or asks themselves how they would like to live a life without a single real live interest in it; how they would like to sit with idle hands that were simply itching to do worth while constructive work; how they would like to be a perpetual infant without the independence, or freedom of an adult, no matter how old they might grow.

For that is the case of the daughter who stays at home. A woman only cuts the parental leading strings and achieves independence by getting married, or going to work and making her own living. As long as her father and mother pay for her board and clothes she could not have a right to boss her, and tell her generally where she gets on and off.

Moreover, the girl who doesn't marry finds some queer way the family look down on her. Her purple martin is the largest, the male being entirely blue above and below, while the female is blue above with a gray breast.

DOROTHY DIX'S TALKS THE SUPERFLUOUS GIRL.

THERE is no more pathetic figure than that of the superfluous girl.

By "superfluous girl" I mean the young woman who belongs to a rich, or well-to-do family, and who at 30, plus, is still hanging upon the parent's coat; who is strong and active of body, brain and strong and active of body, overflowing with energy and ability, and who is herself useless, and purposeless in life.

There seems to be no place in all the world for her. No one really needs her. She has nothing to do except to kill time, which is the dearest occupation ever devised by the Father of Evil.

She can't find employment in helping mother with the housekeeping for the very sufficient reason that other women don't let her. Mother is still young and husky and fully able to manage her own affairs, and what's more, determined to do it.

The jealous Turk, who brooks no rival near the throne, isn't a marked man. A woman's jealousy about having another woman interfering with the way she runs her establishment.

Especially is she determined not to have her husband poking her finger into her domestic pie, because no other man ever realizes that her own little girl ever grows up into being a woman with judgment and intelligence enough to know how to make a cake without being told just how many eggs and how much sugar to put in. uplift work and to administer to herself some sort of altruistic dope that will deaden her longing for some real, personal, human life in life.

THIS is asking for bread and getting a stone, for just because a woman is unmarried does not necessarily and inevitably, as people seem to suppose, fill her with a passion for knitting socks for the heathens, and leading prayer meetings, and washing other people's dirty little brats.

Of course the time will come when there will be no more superfluous girls, because every girl will be prepared to do some part of the world's work, and she will follow her chosen occupation as simply and as much as a matter of course as a man does. Because a man inherits money, or his father is able to support him without his working is no excuse in our eyes for his passing his life in idleness. We know that it is best for him to work, whether he needs the money or not, because only in doing useful work does anyone find happiness. Only in work can any intelligent human being find a worthy outlet for their energies, and a real, live, abiding interest that never palls.

Someday we shall have intelligence enough to know that a woman can never be happy as a parasite any more than a man can; that a woman needs work and the interest of work just as much as a man does, and that she deteriorates in idleness just as a man does.

Then, when our daughters do not marry and have not the work and interest of a family, we will not laugh at them and oppose them, and think they reflect on the family when they want to go into business and follow careers. Instead we will give them money, and start them in business just as we did their brothers, and so do away with the superfluous girl.

For no one is superfluous who is useful.

Scientific Fancies.

One of the best inventions we have heard of lately will soon be completed by a prominent electrician. It is a device, which, placed upon the front end of a street car, will put a stop to motorists speeding past them when passengers are getting off. When the street car comes to a stop, cessation of the rotary motion of the axle causes a connection in the motor to become operative, which, in turn, sets up a circular current to the right of the motor. This current extends over the street to the right of the front end of the street car to a distance of about 20 feet and at a height to strike at the hat line of drivers in automobiles. So, as long as the car is standing still any autoist who passes will have his hat knocked off and his hair singed by the invisible rotating current. The current will be too high to bother pedestrians. Thus, after a few experiences and shocks, it is confidently anticipated by the inventor that all motorists will stop when they approach a street car from which passengers are alighting. That is, if the thing works.—Wichita Eagle.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS? By IMOGENE BURCH.

There is an interesting old English superstition or custom especially in vogue among rural folk, the true relation of which to the point of a diamond upon a window pane the young lady in question would never be offended, no matter what her rank or fortune.

An interesting story is told of Queen Elizabeth and Sir Walter Raleigh. On an occasion of an interview with the wily Queen, Sir Walter, rather distrustful of the royal encouragement accorded him, is said to have gone to a window in the royal audience chamber and written on the pane with his diamond.

Fain would I climb; but I fear to fall.

For answer the Queen scratched beneath this following admonition at once an encouragement and a warning:

If thy heart fall thee, do not climb at all.

An eighteenth century instance of diamond point writing is told in the Boston Chronicle in 1769. An English beauty, while sojourning at a famous English watering place, received a "window pane" proposal from a young gentleman of her acquaintance. For answer she wrote on the same pane:

In vain, in vain is all you've said. For I'm resolved to die a maid.

For answer the gentleman cut this rejoinder, the idea being better than the rhyme:

The lady who this resolution took Wrote on a glass to show it might be broke.

The reporter who relates this story says that on returning at a later time he found that the window pane had been removed and a new one substituted. Did this mean that the vow had been broken?

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

By CAROLYN WELLS,

Author of "The Bride of a Moment," "Faulkner's Folly," Etc.

WE don't mean that sort," said Eve. "We were talking seriously."

"Count me out," then," laughed Vernie. "Our ghosts weren't a bit real. I did most of 'em myself, joggling the table, when the others didn't know it!"

Eve's scarlet lips came together in a narrow line, but the others laughed at the Vernie as she babbled on.

"Yes, and we tried the Ouija board. I can make it say anything I want it to."

"Good for you, Kiddie," cried Braye. "I believe I like your notion of these things better than the ideas of the psychologists. It sounds a lot more fun!"

"And comes nearer the truth," declared Mr. Bruce. "I've looked up these matters and I've read all the best and most authoritative books on the subject. There are many writers more diffuse and circumstantial, but Andrew Lang sums up the whole situation in his able way. He says there are no ghosts, but there are hallucinations. And that explains all."

"It doesn't to me," and Eve's beryl eyes took on a mystic, faraway look. "I, too, have read a lot of books—'Scientific or psychic'—interrupted Mr. Bruce, acidly.

"Psychical and Theosophical." "Rubbish!" The Theosophic bunch have been in the discard for years. "That's what I say," put in Milly, "the whole business is old-fashioned."

"It isn't a question of fashion," and Gifford Bruce spoke assuredly: "the subject is one that recurs in many of our such things do. Why, there have been whoops and haunted houses in people's imagination ever since there has been man and a house for him to live in. Some are in the Bible, the primitive Australians had legends of ghosts, the awful Dyaks record them, and there is scarce a castle or palace of the middle ages that hasn't its Woman in White, or a Little Gray Lady, or the Man in Black. And in an old Egyptian papyrus, there's an account of a defunct lady who insisted on haunting her husband to his great distaste."

"My goodness, Uncle Gif, you do know a lot about it!" and Vernie went over and sat on the arm of his chair.

Tell us more. I like this sort of ghost story better than the foot stunts we did at school.

"I'm not telling ghost stories, child, I'm only declaring that ghost stories are mere superstitions, no more true relation of happenings. Lang investigated thousands of cases, and in 10 out of every 11, he states, fraud was proved."

"Quite so," said Eve, "and it is that eleventh case that interests the real thinker, the true inquirer."

"But the eleventh case was simply proven, it never has been shown that it was really a ghostly visitation."

"But they do say, Uncle Gifford," observed Braye, "that the very fact of the frauds being perpetrated proves that there was something to imitate. If no spirit had ever returned to earth and made itself manifest, no one would have thought of pretending that one did."

"Nonsense and superlateness! Why, Rudolph, perpetual motion is not a real thing, but how many times has it been pretended? You don't remember the Kely motor, but that deceived thousands into believing that perpetual motion was at hand?"

"Every reader who is overweighed at this time of year, try this. You will probably find it is just what you need. Enderle Drug Co., Wolf-Wilson, A. E. Medler, Judge & Delph, Keffer Drug Store or any druggist can supply you.—ADV.

Household brushes should never be left to rest on the bristles, and they will last longer if regularly washed.

last discovered, but it wasn't; and that fraud doesn't prove that perpetual motion, without adequate cause, exists."

"Here comes Prof. Hardwick," exclaimed Milly. "Splendid to have him come just now! Sit down, professor, and get right into the game. You know all these people, except this angel child, Miss Vernie Reid."

"I am an angel," declared Vernie, "but I'm no child! I've just graduated with honors and diplomas and lots of presents. Now, I'm out in the great world, and glory, but I love it! But don't mind me, professor, go right on and tell us all you know about ghosts and ghostesses."

"Bless my soul, I don't know anything about them."

"Well, do you believe in ghosts?" "What do you mean by ghosts?" How do you define a ghost?"

"Ah, there's the rub," said Landon. "These people are all talking at cross purposes. Mr. Bruce means a seer or clairvoyant rigger up in sheets. Miss Carnforth means a supernatural being of some sort, but I take a ghost in the proper sense to mean the visible soul of someone who has died."

"What do you mean by visible soul? Disembodied?" "No," considered Landon. "I suppose I mean a ghost in a body—that is, an apparent body."

"And raiment?" asked the old professor.

"Yes, certainly. I never heard of a nude spook!" "Then your visible soul is concealed by a body of flesh, and clothes, of fabric, or, at least, apparently so. The soul, I take it, would show but low visibility."

"Good, Hardwick," cried Mr. Bruce. "Give them a jolt, they need it—talking such rubbish!"

"Rubbish, Bruce? What do you mean by rubbish?"

"Why, all this ghost gabble!" "How do you know it's rubbish? Have you personally disproved it? Do you mean intentional rubbish? Are they talking deceptively, or are they themselves deceived?"

"By the Lord Harry, Hardwick, I had forgotten you were such a stickler for words! I must choose my dictation carefully. Do you, then, believe that so-called supernatural appearances are caused by psychical influences or are hallucinations of the senses? There, I think I've put it clearly."

"Fairly so. But I can't answer clearly."

"I never express an opinion on a grave question!" Milly's hand flew up to her mouth to repress an involuntary giggle. "A grave question?" she exploded. "It surely is!"

The professor looked at her thoughtfully. "It is," he went on.

Defects of the Covenant.

"It is easy, on the other hand, to perceive the grave deficiencies of the convention of April 28. The obligation to refrain from having recourse to war is far from absolute. War remains not only possible, but permissible whenever the international council fails to obtain a unanimous vote on the solution of a conflict submitted to it; war is permissible even in the event of a unanimous decision, after the expiration of the delays imposed on the contesting parties according to article 12. The convention evidently counts on the pressure of public opinion to check the contesting parties; it does not give definite authority to the international organism."

Carl Weiman Is Pretty Tall, but Those Athletics Made Him Extend Himself to Win

Carl Weiman's Come Back Miracle of 1919 Campaign: Wins Fifth Straight Game

Out of Fray for Nearly Two Years, Due to Major Operation, Taken Back as an Experiment, Browns' Southpaw is Now Rivaling Sothoron as Browns' Mainstay.

WHEN Carl Weiman, the Browns' southpaw, held the Athletics yesterday to four safeties, gaining his fifth straight victory, he proved beyond a doubt that he had really "come back." The "come-back" of the pitcher is one of the real miracles of the 1919 baseball season. It has been the wonderful pitching of Weiman and Sothoron that has kept the Burkenes in the race.

In the last five complete games he has pitched, all of them on the home lot, Weiman has permitted seven runs, an average of 1.27 per game. For the campaign Weiman has a record of eight victories, against five defeats. He has pitched 117 innings and has permitted 108 hits and 39 runs, an average of 2.97 markers per contest.

When, in May, 1917, the left-hander was forced to undergo a major operation, it was thought that his baseball days were over. However, Weiman stayed out in 1918, and this spring made the training trip with the team. He did not show much in the South or in his first major league attempt. But Carl stuck to his task and is now flinging as good ball as he ever did.

All Look Alike to Carl. Weiman has not picked on "cripples" in landing his five straight. His victories have come over the White Sox, Tigers, Cleveland, Boston and Athletics. Two of the aggregations, the Sox and Indians, are in the first division, while the Junglers are a game at third, the Browns for fourth. His record:

Date—Opp.	R.	H.	Inn.
July 2—Chicago	1	9	9
July 2—Detroit	2	8	9
July 5—Cleveland	3	9	9
July 10—Boston	1	6	9
July 14—Philadelphia	0	9	9

However, Weiman's pitching was not the only important part he played in yesterday's 1-0 victory over Mack. Weiman started the winning trip with the eighth inning by coaxing a pass, after two were out. After this, Herman Brockie, who is playing a whole lot of a game at third, came through with a long clout between Kopp and Walker that scored the flinger.

Yesterday's victory for the Brown by a one-run margin was the nineteenth of the season, which shows that Burke's aggression has captured just half of the victories by a margin of 140 feet. Only six games have been lost by one run. It was the sixth conquest landed this month by a single tally. All of which can be taken to mean several things.

For one, it shows that the Browns have a tight defense—one that can hold a small margin; that they can come through in the pinch and that they have been favored by the breaks.

Burke has started on their stretch of seven victories in May, when they won eight and lost two. In June the count was 6-4, and this month to date 6-0.

During the nine innings yesterday Weiman was forced to extend himself just once. That came in the fourth inning, when Fred Thomas, after receiving a hit from Seaver, missed his foul against the stand, doubled to left. Thomas was the first man up, but he got no farther than the middle station. Walker and Strunk, both filed to Smith, while Burns fouled to Sisler.

Against the tall southpaw just seven men reached first base, while only two saw second. Burns walked in the seventh, but was cut down stealing; Naylor singled with two out in the third; Thomas doubled in the fourth; Walker singled to start the seventh, but was forced by Strunk, who was nipped piling; McAvoy doubled with two gone in the eighth, while Walker drew a pass with two down in the final frame.

Naylor in Good Form. Roland Naylor, a young right-hander for Mack, also hurled a good game. He permitted six hits, and until the eighth, when his pass beat him, he refused to weaken. In the fourth he gave a great exhibition, when Tobin and Sisler singled with none out. Williams, trying to sacrifice, forced Tobin and then Naylor forced Smith to hit into an easy double play.

All things considered, it was one of the prettiest pitching duels witnessed here this season.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Baseball Retrenchment a Failure.

RETRENCHMENT efforts on the part of baseball club owners, as far as salary reduction is concerned, have proven almost a complete failure," commented Connie Mack, the attenuated mahout of the Philadelphia White Elephants, today.

"Despite all attempt of club owners to reduce this important item of annual expense, the pay rolls of baseball clubs this year are very little if any lower than those prevailing during the past five or six years, when baseball and the European war made wages abnormal. In my opinion it will be impossible to further reduce salaries of baseball players, although most of the demands are extremely unreasonable."

"They don't need a players' fraternity to boost wages—they get what they want anyway. Club owners fear a discontented baseball player on the team; he is like a blight on a peach. Unless thrown out he contaminates others, in a short time. For that reason many club owners have yielded to pressure and given in to keep their men healthy-minded."

Eight Clubs Can't All Profit.

"THIS situation is really unfortunate because, under ordinary conditions, it is impossible for eight baseball clubs, averaging an investment of $500,000 each, to make money on such a speculation with the overhead involved. But ball players have no heart. I asked one where he thought I would get the money from to pay salaries such as he demanded. 'That's your affair,' was his answer."

"Baseball players, after a good year, will demand and get a raise. If they fall down the succeeding season they won't stand for a cut. Fearing a sore head on the team, most club owners consent to the hold-up. There you are, with a deplorable man and his salary fixed a notch higher than war-time prices."

"I do not think a wage scale based on performance will ever be adopted. It would affect the playing of the men, whose minds would be on their records, not on team work."

Hold-Up Still With Us.

"I HAVE fought the salary hold-up for years. I have battled against the long-term contract, which was the worst disease in the financial field of baseball. I have argued against paying $25,000 and $20,000 salaries, and they have been hard to fight. I have not succeeded in breaking the backbone of high salaries nor in checking unreasonable players' demands. I'm still fighting, but I must have a real ball club, and they are hard to find unless you meet the market price."

"Two things are helping us over the shoals this year. One is the fact that the bleachers are being deserted in favor of the grandstands, due to higher wages; the other is Sunday baseball in New

"I SEE they quote me as saying the White Sox and the Giants will fight it out in the world's series," Connie Mack told the Post-Dispatch today. "I have not even seen the Giants work, so know nothing about them; and I have not seen any National League club. I could not possibly make a selection under the conditions. I rather favor the White Sox, because it has some brains on it, besides other strong features. But it has strong opposition, and is far from being a certainty."

"Burke is getting out of his ball club all there is in it. I think he has a smart team, with speed and a punch; that's about all any club needs to have a chance."

York and Washington. These two factors are materially increasing baseball club incomes all around the circuit.

High Wages Increase Receipts.

"A T my own park, and all around the country I notice the bleacher patron of other days is now an occupant of the pavilion or the grandstand. This means, of course, that the visiting club is drawing down 35 cents a head, instead of 12 1/2."

"The Sunday baseball is just so much money in the league's purse. This will mean about 10 or more Sunday games this year, and at the present rate of nearly half a million more dollars to the league's receipts."

"In other respects baseball is looking up. All the wrangling and bickering of the preceding year, due to mental stress of war conditions, has passed. I think all of us realize that what we did and said then was partly prompted by strain of war conditions, and therefore, should be forgotten. I am convinced that this is true as regards the American League, and that entire harmony will prevail."

"Until the Baltimore Federal suit has been decided baseball will not be entirely easy. But even if the decision is adverse, it's only a few dollars per club to be paid. As to baseball, they can't take away the right of one club to play another, even by trust laws. And that's about all we ask."

In on the Ground Floor.

MACK has been gazing in the cellar at the game of the years and the position is due no doubt to a realization that fans will not forever cling to a lesser, however great it may have been in the past.

ronage we are getting," Mack said in reply to a query. "I didn't think they would stand for a longer time long and for that reason I hope to get mountains to give them a good club. The Philadelphia fans are very loyal to both teams."

Mack does not like to take anybody's smoke. A few years ago he was accustomed to breathing the pure air out in front, where the clubs spent a considerable number of years.

As a consequence, instead of selling his players, he is moving all the baseball wires within reach in the endeavor to add to his present list, either by trade or purchase.

Yesterday he acquired Terry Turner, the Cleveland veteran, to play second base, giving Witt a chance to return to the outfield. A few weeks ago he made a deal that brought back Strunk and the famous second-sacker, Barry. The latter, however, refused to go to work for Mack because he said he wanted either a three-year contract or his unconditional release.

"I offered him his price, but not for three years," Mack said. "I even told him that if he would help me out through the present season I would give him his unconditional release or arrange for him to join any club he wanted to. But he could not see it. Neither can I see it."

Connie's club at the present time is a fair one. It has been afflicted with poor pitching—an ailment as common to this year's baseball teams as pip to the chicken family. Connie this year has both the money and the inclination to spend on baseball talent; but you might as well try to buy a koinor from a Magistrate.

No Out-of-Town Men Entered in Five-Mile Swim

Only Five Names, All Local, Have Been Received for Western R. C. Feature.

M. A. A. WILL SEND THREE

Laubis, Horn and Potthoff Will Represent Cherry Diamond, Next Sunday.

The Western Rowing Club's annual five-mile swim, to be held in the Mississippi River, Sunday afternoon, will in all probability be a strictly local event. With the entries closing tomorrow night, and not one out-of-town application yet received, John Joachim, who is in charge of the race, has given up hopes of inducing outside paddlers to compete.

A report having widely circulated that Mr. W. Warren Barbour, timekeeper appointed by this board for the Willard-Dempsey contest, had written to Mr. Potthoff, the referee, stating that the interval of one minute between the third and fourth rounds had expired before Willard's seconds threw a towel into the ring, I beg to state that Mr. Barbour has written no such letter and further that the statement reported to be contained in the alleged letter is entirely untrue, the fact, as only 47 seconds had expired in the interval referred to, when the signal of defeat was given.

"The board is in no way concerned with wagers that have been made on the contest, but a number of inquiries have been received from the board has decided that the contest should be regarded as having ended in the third round."

J. W. WILLIAMS WINS 2 CONSOLATION MATCHES

IN C. S. TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Play in the consolation class of the Central States tournament at the Triple A is moving very slowly. Only two matches have been completed, while others are being delayed by defaults. J. W. Williams, after defeating O. M. Kuperie, 7-5, 6-1, Jones has previously won 6-4, 6-1. Deane has won from B. P. Bogey, and a Reiman won from H. S. Adams, both matches by default. The only doubles match decided by default, Diekmann and Diekmann winning from Thomas and McDonald.

Three M. A. A. Entries Expected.

The Missouri Athletic Association will be represented by a three-man team. Only one M. A. A. entry has yet been filed, that of Herman Laubis, recognized as the city's premier paddler. Laubis entered unattached last week, but since then has announced that he will swim under the Cherry Diamond of the Missouri Athletic Association.

Laubis in practice work since his return from the service has been making good time. Yesterday he did a 25-minute mile in the tank, which is a mark not to be scoffed at.

Oliver Horn and Fred Potthoff are the other M. A. A. entries. Both have been filed, that of Herman Laubis, recognized as the city's premier paddler. Laubis entered unattached last week, but since then has announced that he will swim under the Cherry Diamond of the Missouri Athletic Association.

FORD IN ANGER ADMITS HE IS AN IGNORANT IDEALIST

Tells Lawyer He Will Cede It if Questioning to Meaning of Various Words Is Abandoned.

LATER TESTIFIES HE DID NOT MEAN

Attorney Stevenson Argues That Manufacturer Was Ignorant of Essential

By the Associated Press. MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 14.—In a moment of petulance while the witness stand today, Henry Ford plaintiff in a $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune admitted that he was an "ignorant idealist." Subsequently he repeated his statement.

This was one of the alleged charges made against him in Tribune editorial. Attorney E. C. Stevenson, for the Tribune, been asking questions to establish possible that Ford as a matter fact was ignorant. The witness that he made the admission to stop the examination. When formally asked to admit, he was an "ignorant idealist," declined to do so.

In the course of the examination Ford defined a traitor as "one who works against the Government." Idealist as one "who helps other make a profit, and evidently, Arnold Bennett vaguely in mind, scribed Benedict Arnold as a "traitor."

"Much time was consumed in the President Wilson's prepared speeches of 1916. Stevenson quoted the phrase 'Some old scarecrow talk,' asked who was meant. Ford turned his familiar reply, 'De vigne wrote that.' He added that the 'scarecrow' were the professional agitators preparedness.

"Your position was that they advocating preparedness in order profit by munitions." "Overparedness, yes."

Questioned as to "murderers," "Oh, you are still talking of preparedness." I think you do that yesterday as anything in relation to what we had in 1916," reminded the lawyer, then referred to the use of the "murderer," as applied by Ford professional soldiers and those make money out of war.

"Well, you are a murderer 1907," suggested Stevenson. "Oh, no," replied the witness quickly. "That was during the war."

"In the course of one of the Lavigne articles, for which Mr. takes full responsibility, the 'bally ho' was used. Ford questioned, hazarded the guess he meant 'blackguard.' Stevenson said, 'It means a shout of derision or a show of exhibition, he.

"It means a 'barker,' put in Fred Luching, senior counsel for Ford. "Have it your way, Mr. Luching," said Stevenson. "It's all the same." "What do you understand by word 'treason'?" asked Stevenson. "Anything against the Government," said Ford.
